

About the SIU Training Scholarships

One of the cornerstones of the SIU's educational mission is its scholarship programme for young urologists (less than 10 years since MD qualification).

These involve training in a recognized institute located in the candidate's geographical area. There are also a limited number of opportunities for training abroad as a visiting scholar in an observational role. Both programmes offer the sum of $5,000 US for a period of 6 months.

To apply for an SIU Scholarship:

About the SIU Academy

In March 2013, SIU launched SIU Academy—the first urological eLearning platform with powerful search and interactive features, accessible via a computer or mobile device. It is a searchable online database that gives urologists easy access to a vast resource of educational material, including webcasts, case studies, live surgery videos and publications, to name a few.

In collaboration with other urological societies, SIU hosts the live streaming of meetings or workshops focusing on specific urological topics via SIU Academy. The portal includes recorded videos from these SIU-endorsed events, as well as expert interviews to meet the broad educational needs of our geographically diverse membership.

As SIU's official eLearning portal, SIU Academy will help promote global education and cooperation in urology. It will be especially impactful in developing countries, where its easy Web-access means that any urologist will be able to expand their knowledge and improve their skill-set.

To become a member of SIU Academy, click here to register and start taking advantage of all the benefits that SIU Academy has to offer.

About the SIU scholarships to attend SIU Congress 2014 in Glasgow

The SIU offers a scholarship programme for up to 10 residents/fellows from 'B' and 'C' countries—based on World Bank Data from July 2012—to attend the 34th SIU Congress in Glasgow, Scotland from October 12-15, 2014. The scholarship covers registration and housing for the duration of the Congress (4 nights at SIU-appointed hotel).

The applications will begin early April, and the deadline to apply will be June 1st. More information to come.
